...ATION CAN NO MAN LAY THAN
... WHICH IS JESUS CHRIST? I COR. 11.

E CLIPSES FOR THE YEAR 1872.

There will be four Eclipses ; two of the sun and two of the moon:

The first is a partial Eclipse of the moon, on the 22d of May, at 5 o'clock 9 min. in the afternoon. Invisible here. When the moon rises in the evening the Eclipse has passed.

The second is an Annular Eclipse of the Sun, on the 5th of June, 10 o'clock 17 min. in the evening ; therefore invisible. Visible in Asia and on the Pacific Ocean.

The third is a partial Eclipse of the Moon, on the 14th and 15th of November. Visible as follows : Begins November 14th, at 11 o'clock 52 min. in the evening ; middle, November 15th, at 12 o'clock 10 min. in the morning ; ends November 15th, at 12 o'clock 28 min. in the morning. Duration of this Eclipse is only 36 min.

The fourth is a total Eclipse of the Sun, on the 30th of November, at 1 o'clock 34 min. in the afternoon. Invisible in the United States on account of the moon's great southern latitude. Will be visible in the southern part of South America. At Cape Horn the Eclipse will be nearly total.

Dominical Letter.

The Council of Nice, A. D., 325, decided that Easter Sunday should be the first Sunday after that full moon which comes on March 21st, or next after that date. To determine this and similar days, it was found convenient to place the first seven letters of the alphabet successively against the days of the month, putting A to Jan. 1st, and repeating the seven letters through the year. All Sundays in the year, (except in leap year,) will have the same letter as falls to the first one; thus the Dominical letter enables us to find on what day of the week any given day in the year falls. The Dominical letter for any year from 1870 to 1899 may be found in the following table :

AD	0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
187	B	A	G	F	E	D	C	B	A	G
188	D	C	B	A	G	F	E	D	C	B
189	E	D	C	B	A	G	F	E	D	C

Find the first three figures of the date in the left hand column, and in line with these, under the last figure of the date (found at the top) is the letter sought. For leap year there are two letters; the first serves for January and February, the other for the other ten months.

TABLE SHOWING ON WHAT DAY OF THE WEEK
ANY DAY OF ANY MONTH FALLS.

January, October,	A	B	C	D	E	F	G
Feb., March, November,	D	E	F	G	A	B	C
April, July,	G	A	B	C	D	E	F
May,	B	C	D	E	F	G	A
June,	E	F	G	A	B	C	D
August,	C	D	E	F	G	A	B
September, December,	F	G	A	B	C	D	E
Find the Dominical letter for the year by the previous table, then in this table find that letter in a line with the month	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
	8	9	10	11	12	13	14
	15	16	17	18	19	20	21
	22	23	24	25	26	27	28

in question, and the figures below in the column containing the letter will be the Sundays of that month, from which reckon backward or forward to the day of the week sought.

Example: On what day of the week will the 4th of July be this year? This being a leap year by the first table, the Dominical letters for 1872 are G F. F serves for the ten months after February. This letter, in the second table, in line with July, comes in the seventh column, and by moving the eye downward we find Sunday will be the 7th; hence the 4th of July will be on Thursday.

For the Brethren's ALMANAC.
Biographical Sketches.

JOHAN NAAS, the most eminent of the Brethren's early preachers, was born 1669 or 70, at Norten, a town in the Province of Westphalia, 12 miles north of Emden. He was one among the first fruits of the Brethren in Creyfelt, and on account of his disinterested piety and great natural endowments, he was soon called to the ministry, in which he manifested so much zeal that his field of labor at Creyfelt appeared too small for his ardent desire to extend the knowledge of the newly discovered truth. Hence he made several very successful tours, through the adjoining Provinces as a traveling Missionary, in which he suffered many privations, and once narrowly escaped being pressed into the army of the king of Prusia (see anecdote of him in last year's almanac on page 23).

He emigrated to the U. S. of America with the second company of the Brethren, in 1729, and staid with the church at Germantown until 1733; then he, with four other families crossed the Delaware, and settled at Amwell, New Jersey, and immediately founded a church there, which is in a flourishing condition yet to this day. During his lifetime this church was the spiritual birth place of more brethren than perhaps any other in the Union. In fact most of the churches were planted by emigrants from this; for, on account of their straightened circumstances they were continually moving to other and newer settlements, to procure cheaper homes.

It is said by one of his contemporaries that knew him well, that he was unequalled as a preacher—being a German Whitefield or a Boanerges. Several of his hymns, which are still in use by the brethren, also speak well of him as a Poet, or Hymnologist. He is farther represented as being very mild and charitable, almost to a fault, insomuch that he occasionally differed with the brethren in the administration of judgment to offending members. He died ripe in years and full of faith, on the 12th of May, 1741, and is buried amidst many of his spiritual children, in the Brethren's graveyard at Amwell.

Although he was twice married he left no issue that we know of, except two daughters. One of them was married to a Bro. Wilhelmus Graw, in Creyfelt, who never came to America. The other married to a Hannes Landis, who afterwards joined the seventh day Baptists, and went to Ephrata, but soon became dissatisfied with that community, and in 1735 or 6 was reconciled again to the Brethren, and became a member of the church in Conestoga where he lived until death took him home.

George Adam Martin.

George Adam Martin was also an eminent preacher among the early brethren. He was born near Landstuhle, a mountain Fortress of the Lower Pfaltz, in the year 1715, and enjoyed the advantages of a good German education, with considerable knowledge of the Latin. He was brought up in the Presbyterian, or Reformed Faith, until about 18 years of age when he became the subject of very deep and pungent convictions, in which distressed and melancholy state of mind he labored for several years, until he was led to embrace the principles, of the Brethren, and was baptized by Martin Urner in 1735, and became a member of the church at Coventry, Chester county. Afterwards of Conestoga in Lancaster county. He soon distinguished himself as a prominent believer—for combined with his exemplary faith, were also great natural abilities. Consequently though young in years he was soon employed by the Brethren on several very important missions, which he discharged to the satisfaction of the church, and credit to himself. He was omniously led to preach without being elected, by accidentally opening his Testament on 2 Timothy 2: 15, during a special season of Re-sirement in the woods, which he imagined to be a call of the Lord, but felt himself so inadequate and incompetent to engage in that sacred duty, that it caused a very great conflict in his mind for about four months, until he obtained perfect peace by a total resignation to the will of the Lord. After which he went forth and preached at occasions required, until 1739 when he was formally ordained by Peter Becker, and in obedience to a call from the Little Conewaga church, he moved beyond the Susquehannah, and officiated for a while as a faithful minister among the several churches which he assisted to organize there, until on account of some misunderstandings which arose between him and the Brethren, he moved to the Antietam, where his labors also appeared to be blessed and approved of by the Lord, until in an unguarded hour he brought scandal upon himself and the church, which resulted in a very sad fraternal division of the church inasmuch that he soon organized for himself with about 60 members that were in sympathy with him, including some of the most eminent for piety and virtue. As he continued preaching the same doctrine as before, numbers were added to them by baptism so that his little church increased very fast for awhile, but did not last long until one after another of those who had left the Brethren on his account went back and were reconciled with them again.

About this time (1762) he and several of his adherents paid a visit to the Seventh day Brethren at Ephrata, where they were so well received, and felt such a confluence of spirit, that they united themselves with them, in so far that they ever afterwards labored and worshiped together, although he never formally joined them, for he was never re-baptized and never kept the seventh day Sabbath. But after this association was in so far agreed upon the most of his labors were with the Bermudian church in York county, which was to a great extent the offspring of Ephrata.

About 1770 he moved with his family to Stony Creek in Bedford county, which was another offspring of Ephrata, where for the most part the seventh day sabbath was kept. But while he was not properly in fellowship with the Brethren any more at this time, I shall follow him no farther; but close by saying that he was married to a sister Kuipper, by whom he had many children and grand children, a few of whom are still living in the counties above mentioned.

Although brother Martin did not finish his course as we would wish, he was for all, as we trust, the happy instrument of gathering many souls into the fold of Christ. He was a shrewd, far-seeing man—a good logical reasoner—a profound speaker, and a very ready writer. Besides his other labors he wrote and published a Book of 152 octavo pages called "The Christliche Bibliothek," which contains a great many very beautiful ideas. He was also the occasion of several important changes and improvements in the order and discipline of the Brethren; as for instance, in 1737, he accompanied brother Martin Uerner on a tour to the great swamp, now Bucks county, where a number of believers were to be baptized. Accordingly after reading the 14th chapter of Luke, on building a Tower, and going to war with another king, &c., was read to the candidates as their custom was already in Europe. Brother Martin was much surprised at it when he was baptized, but on this occasion the inconsistency of it struck him so forcibly that he could not withhold stating his reasons publicly against it, whereupon the Elders (Peter Becker being also present) said: "What then shall we do?—we must say something to the candidates" Without a moment's consideration he said: "Why not read the 18th of Matthew, about admonishing and reproaching" which pleased them so well that it was immediately adopted, and has ever since been read on all such occasions, throughout the Union.

With him also originated the first idea of having or holding an Annual Meeting for conference, which occurred as follows:

In 1742 the Moravians, with the newly arrived Count Zinzendorf at the head, published a number of Religious Conferences, to which "deputies from all the various sects in that part of America were earnestly requested to attend." Accordingly brother Martin was delegated by the church of Conestogo to represent the Brethren.—The object of these conferences was—"If possible to promote a closer approximation to each other—if not in doctrine yet in Love. In order that all judging and condemning of each other might be done away." Of these conferences they had seven, in close succession, of three days each, in different parts of the country. The one to which brother Martin was delegated convened at Oley, Berks county. In his report of it to the church, he says he heard many strange and singular things, during those three days,—that he regarded these conferences as a snare to entice the simple and inexperienced of the awakened souls back again to their former habits of religion, and thus establish old Babel again. Whereupon the church held a council what to do for to prevent—or to circumscribe this apparent danger, as several of the brethren were already led astray by their doctrine. It was then proposed to hold an Annual conference, or Big Meeting (as they call it) ourselves, which met with such a favorable reception and was so unanimously approved of, that the move was immediately adopted, and the time and place fixed when and where it should be kept. This was as afore said in 1742, which is the beginning and true foundation of our Annual Meetings.

An old Document.

During that trying period of the American Revolution so many false and conflicting reports were spread among the Brethren concerning the conduct of brother Christopher Saur (Sower) that he deemed it necessary to draw up the following statement of facts, with the appended queries to be read at Annual Meeting to clear some of the charges against him, and vindicate his conduct so far as innocent.

A TRUE ACCOUNT OF WHAT HAPPENED TO ME, CHRISTOPHER SOWER, DURING THE LATE WAR.

Having heard how a number of Quakers were banished and carried away to Virginia, and being informed that there were yet some hundreds of substantial inhabitants on the list to be taken up and secured, among which my name was also put down; and as there was already a beginning made and some of the Millers and others on the Wissahicon were actually taken away from their families, I considered what I would best do. Knowing that Germantown would always be a disturbed place, for English and Americans would continually march through it, forwards and backwards, and having three of my children already living in Philadelphia, I bethought myself to go there too,—to live with them in peace. Accordingly I went to Philadelphia on the 19th day of October, 1777, (many months before the act was made which forbade to go to Philadelphia.) And so I lived there quietly and peaceably till the 23d day of May, 1778, when I went back to Germantown again, and was in my house that night and the next day until 10 o'clock in the evening, when a strong party of captain McLean's company surrounded my house and fetched me out of my bed. It being a very dark night, they lead me through the Indian corn fields, where I could not get along as fast as they wanted me to go, so they frequently stuck me in the back with their bayonets, until they brought me to Bastian Miller's barn, where they kept me till next morning; then they stripped me naked to the skin and gave me an old shirt and a pair of breeches so much torn that I could barely cover my nakedness. Then they cut my beard and hair, and painted me with oil colors, red and black, and so led me along bare-footed and bare-headed, in a very hot sun-shining day, until a friend of mine seeing me in that condition, asked them whether they would take the shoes from me if he would give me a pair. The officer in charge of me gave his word for it that they should not be taken from me, and so he took the shoes from his own feet, and the hat from his head, and gave them to me. But after we had marched about six miles a soldier came and demanded my shoes and took them, and gave me his old slabs, which were so hard and torn that they wounded my feet very much. On the 26th, at nine o'clock, I arrived at the camp, near Valley Forge, and was sent to the provo. My accusation in the mittimus was "an oppressor of the righteous and a spy." On the 27th in the morning, God moved the heart of the most generous General Mulenberg, to come to me and inquire into my affairs, and promised that he would speak to General Washington and procure me a hearing, and the next day sent me word that I should make a petition to General Washington, which I did, and through the good hand of Providence and the faithful assistance of said General Mulenberg, I was permitted to go out of the provo on the 29th day of May. But as I was not free, it being against my conscience to take the oath to the States, I was not permitted to go home to Germantown, as appears by the following pass, viz: "Permit the bearer hereof, Mr. Sowers, to pass from hence to Methatchey, not to return to Germantown during the stay of the enemy in this State, he behaving as becometh. Given under my hand at the orderly office, this thirteenth day of May, 1778."

NICHOLAS GILMAN,
Ass. Adj't. Gen."

So I went to Methatchey and stayed there till the 23d of June, when I returned to Germantown and there lived quietly until the 27th of July, when Cols. Smith and Thompson came to my house and asked me whether I had entered special bail at the Supreme Court in Lancaster. I told them no. "Why not?" said they. "Because I had no notice." "That cannot be," said Thompson, "it was in the newspapers and handbills." I told them that I had at that time been in the provo and at Methatchey, and had seen none of those papers, and nobody had told me of it till after the time had expired. "Have you then taken the oath to the States?" "No," was my reply. "Why not; was you so attached to the King?" "No; it was not the attachment to the King, but because you have in your act that they who do not take that oath shall not have a right to buy or sell, and as I find in the book of Revelations that such a time will come, when such a mark would be given, therefore I could not take that oath while it stood on that condition."

"But you went to the English at Philadelphia," said Smith. I said yes, and do you know why? "No," said he, "nor do I want to know."—Then they told me that they were come to take an inventory of my personal estate and sell it, and to rent out my real estates. I told them I would submit to all that the Lord permitted them to do, and so Smith stood guard that I might not put anything out of the way, and Thompson went out to get appraisers and a clerk, and so they began to appraise. I then begged of them they should let me keep my bed, but Smith gave answer, "they had no right to let me have anything besides my clothes and provisions (which last they did not abide by, for when they found a barrel of beef in the cellar, they took it down, although it was provision.) I then begged for a few medicines which I had put by for my family use—being chiefly of my own and my father's preparations, and nobody else knew anything about them, what they were: but Smith said no; medicines are very valuable, they must be sold. Then I begged for nothing more, except for my spectacles, which was finally granted. Then on the 28th they told me that I must quit the house now, for they must rent it out; and so I moved out of it on the 30th of July. Then they proceeded to sell my effects. But before the sale came on, my son Daniel endeavored to stop it, and applied to Thomas Mattock and asked him whether his Father should not have a hearing. He replied yes. But we must sell his effects first. He then applied to Mr. Lewis to stop the sale till next court, who endeavored all he could to do it. But they had invented a lie, namely that I or some of my people had secretly crept in the house, and had destroyed all the New Testaments, and that if the sale did not go on, all would be destroyed before the said court would come on, and so they passed on with the sale of all my Personal estate and rented out my several houses and lands for one year, and then sold them also—contrary to the concession of the convention in the case of Forfeited Estates—by which no Real Estate could have been sold before my youngest son is of age. And so they have not only broken the fundamental rule (of the government) in selling my Estate; but have also published me, in almost all the newspapers, as a Traitor, without any cause, and without ever giving me a hearing, or trial. Although I never had gone a mile from my place of abode, and their own Attorney Mr. Bradford, has himself declared to a friend of mine, that if I had not forfeited my life I had also not forfeited my Estate, for they had no more right to my Estate than to my life, &c.

Query 1st. As there are debts due to me on Bonds, Notes, and book accounts,—who has the best right to command them of the people, I, or the State?

Query 2d. If a man is openly declared a traitor, without a cause or without a Hearing or Trial, when he was not absent, and might have been heard—is it just to let him forever lie under that reproach?

Query 3d. Is it right that Col. Smith be permitted to carry on a Lawsuit against my son Daniel, and to pocket 50 pound hard money to himself when he has paid the State (—if ever he has) with a trifle of continental?

ABRAHAM H. CASSEL.

Abraham Duboy.

Another eminent preacher among the early Brethren was ABRAHAM DUBOY, an unmarried brother, who devoted himself wholly to the service of the Lord. He was born in the year 1679, at Epstein, in Germany, and brought up in the Presbyterian or Reformed faith, until he embraced the principles of the Brethren. He was baptized and became a member of the church at Marienborn in 1712, where he stayed until 1715, when the persecution became so fierce that the church there was scattered. Then he, with the most of its members, fled to Schwartzenau. But as persecution soon began to rage there, too, he emigrated to the United States of America in 1728, and took up his abode on the banks of the Perkioming, in Montgomery county, Pa. From thence, in obedience to a call from the Great Swamp church, in Bucks Co., Pa., he settled himself there as their minister in 1738, where he remained in the faithful discharge of every incumbent duty, until removed by death, on the 21st of March, 1748.

He was eminent for his zeal and unaffected piety, and through the various conflicts of life he endured hardships as a good soldier of Jesus Christ. In short it might be said of him as of Moses of old: "He was faithful in all his house." He was also favored with several remarkable visions, and, as it is said, had a very singular presentiment of his death. One morning as he arose he told the family with whom he lived that the time of his departure was at hand. He therefore dressed himself in his shroud, (Toden-Kleider) which he had in readiness, and desired the family to sing with him a few verses of that beautiful hymn of Johan Arndts: "Nun fahr ich hin mit freuden, ins rechte Fatherland," &c. They did so: then after a short prayer he reclined himself on his couch, which stood close by, and instantly breathed his last, without a sigh or an expiring groan. May we not all say: "Lord, let my last end be like his"? ABRM. H. CASSEL,

Adrian Pfau,

THE EXEMPLARY DEACON, OR CONSECRATED OVERSEER OF THE POOR.

When the church was by persecution driven from Schwartzenau and Creyfelt, the most of them took refuge in West Friesland, a province in the north of Holland, where they were kindly received. Their doctrine also met with such favorable acceptance that in a short time a great many were added to their number, including many of rank and nobility. (In the Apostles' time there were some of "Cesar's household." Phil. iv. 22.) Among them was one Adrian Pfau, who became eminent on account of his office as overseer of the poor, (Armen Pfleger.) He distributed annually out of his private income one hundred thousand Hollandish Guilders, (a coin fully equivalent to our present American dollar,) among the poor in Amsterdam.

Increditable as this statement may appear, there is no reason to doubt the truth of it, as Alexander Mack was personally well acquainted with him, and in his common-place book, we find the following notice of him in his own hand writing, which I transcribe verbatim as a curiosity:

*Gestorben, in West Friesland, Bruder Adrian Pfau, der Wunderbare von Gott berufene und sehr Getreue Armen-Pfleger, der jährlich aus seinen vermögen 100,000 Holländische Gilden anwendete in Amsterdam.

Elder George Klein.

BY DAVID B. KLEIN.

He was, I believe, the first minister of the Brethren church at Northkill, now called the "Little Swatara" church, where the late Annual Meeting was held. He was born at Zweybruecken, in Germany, on the 9th day of October, 1715. In his early youth he emigrated to America, and settled near Annville, New Jersey, where he soon became acquainted with the Brethren. In 1739 he was buried with Christ in baptism, by Elder Johann Naas, who was at that time Presiding Elder at Anville. He was soon after chosen an assistant in the ministry.

In 1750 he moved to Northkill, on the Tulpenhocken, to take charge of the Northkill church, where he was ordained in 1857 by Elders Michael Pfautz and Martin Uner. After a long and useful career of ministerial labors, he was finally gathered home as a shock of corn fully ripe, into the garner of the Lord.

His many descendants are now scattered over a number of States, a goodly number of whom still hold to the good old faith of the Brethren. Sister Merkey, where the late annual meeting was held, is one of them. A number of his descendants were also called to the ministry at different times.

In 1770 the church at Northkill was reduced, by removal to the western valleys of Pennsylvania, to seven families, containing eleven members, whose names were: Elder George Keim and wife, Valentine Long, Elizabeth Reider, Elizabeth Stump, Elizabeth Brandel, Mary Stochner, Sarah Schallenberger, John Stochner and wife, and Susanna Mackley.

Elder John Darst.

In addition to the information already given I will give you a brief history of the oldest Elder in the Miami Valley District, which is my father. Elder John Darst was born in Franklin county, Va., on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1790, and is now in his 82d year. He emigrated to Dayton, Ohio, in the year of 1813, entered a tract of land in Lostcreek township, Miami county, Ohio, in 1817, and moved upon it into a log cabin on the 8th of January, 1818, the cabin having neither door nor window, and there being not a stick of timber cut on the land but what had been cut for the cabin. Here he endured many hardships, which the first settlers were used to on the frontiers. But in a short time after he settled on said tract of land, where he still resides, he became a member of the church of the Brethren, and was soon set apart to the ministry. He entered upon his duties with perseverance and energy, preaching the "gospel of peace," and holding forth the glad tidings of salvation to a lost and ruined world. Much of his time was spent visiting and preaching in different localities in Ohio and Indiana.—The mode of conveyance was then, riding horseback through storm and cold. He has now been in the ministry near fifty years, and is almost ready to say with Paul, 2 Tim. 4-7. He is a grand-son of Elder Jacob Miller, the first member of the Brethren who settled in the Miami Valley, and who was a grandfather of Elder Jacob Miller, deceased, Portage, Indiana. Father Darst is now almost blind, and has been for several years, but he still attends church at the regular appointments, has a clear mind, and still labors in the ministry.

Make Home Beautiful.

BY F. M. S.

WHY do not the homes of uncharitable or miserly men appear beautiful? Because they so love money that they little love a beautiful home. Mr. B— procures a home sufficiently large with poor improvements. His income has ever been small, but he makes his purchase with a resolve that by industry and economy he will pay for it. In a few years his desires are accomplished. "As long as he liveth" the home naturally speaking is his own; his physical strength yet remains; business still continues to prosper; a few more years of faithful labor has brought him a sum of money sufficient to "make home beautiful;" his dwellings which so long were uncomfortable, both in winter and summer, can now be replaced by more convenient and comfortable ones; his vineyard need no more yield "sour grapes," but by an outlay of a few paltry dollars he can have all kinds of delicious, health-preserving fruit; in fact, in time everything around him can be rendered comfortable and beautiful. But instead of making home beautiful he commences to think how he may extend his acres; his neighbor's farm (perhaps in a worse condition than his own) is for sale. He purchases that, and now, poor man! he has so many cares that he can never again be happy.

"Better be content with acres few,
And with flowers thy door-yard strew;
Than millions of acres own,
And in thy heart have seeds of sorrow sown."

Is the Church of the Brethren the True Church of Christ?

If we do the will of our Father in heaven, we are all brethren with our Lord Jesus Christ; and if brethren and sisters of his, we certainly belong to his church. If it is proven that we have that form of religion established by Christ, or by God through Christ, and accept it as the power of God unto salvation, to them that believe, the query heading this article is answered in the affirmative. We recognize the Gospel as our rule and system of Theology; teach that all the commands of God as taught in his last will and testament are essential to salvation; that we are saved through the merits and blood of Christ, which, through the mercy and free grace of God, is granted and applied to all who believe in Christ "as the scriptures have said," and obey the behests of heaven. To any others who have willingly sinned there is no promise of eternal salvation. The disciples and true followers of Christ, from the earliest period of Christianity to the present day, constituted and do constitute the church of Christ. The church has passed through many dark days of persecution and corruption, and was known to the world under different names and organizations; but an unbroken chain has ever linked the true followers of Christ to the church of God. The powers of darkness have encompassed about the church of the living God; but the gates of hell have not, and shall not prevail against her. The church exists yet as a living monument of the manifold goodness and mercy of God; having stood the storms of over eighteen centuries, she still lives! Though without worldly honor or worldly affluence, she is the object of heaven's care, and the medium through which a sinful world can look up to God and heaven with hopes of a blessed immortality. J. S. FLORY.

Simon Says "Pow Wow."

Brother Holsinger :—In writing to you about Almanacs a week or more ago, we said substantially that the greatest objection to your Almanac, by the brethren, was, that there were not "signs" and other conjectures enough in it. Some have said that it did not look much like an Almanac—meaning no doubt that the signs conjectures, notable days, &c. were not given sufficiently in detail—not being able to find all the sage and venerated prognostications to be found in the old Lancaster Almanacs. It must be remembered that the study of the Almanac, in some families, constitutes the most important and persistent literary pursuit, with some of its members at least.

Why, my dear brethren, only reflect one moment and then say, if you can, why you have no more "signs" and memorable days in your Almanac; why you give no Saint days, Fast days, Holidays, Ember days, and a host of other particular days belonging to every day of the ecclesiastical year. And New Year's day you have before Christmas day! You heathen! How shall we know when comes Candlemass, in order to tell whether our fodder is going to hold out, or when to sprinkle the backs of the cows with ashes to exterminate vermin; or when to bake "Fausnacht" cakes, and when comes Ascension day, so the women use no needles on that day, and so be safe from lightning? And how in the world will the men do to find out the price of wheat in advance, if they know nothing about Ember days, to say nothing of the weather which the aspects of these days preindicate. But when comes Mary over the mountain with her apron full of clouds, either of dust or of rain? And when do we look for the day of the coon and his shadow, the frogs under their icy spectacles? And when comes Shrove Tuesday, Ash Wednesday, Ascension Thursday, Good Friday, Easter, Pentecost, &c?

The memorable days of profane history you have not inserted either. But that was right; we care not half as much about them as we do about those having signs with them.

Here you have "What kind of weather we are going to have" stuck in a corner only about quarter full? This is a mistake. It is nearly as important to have a clear day as a good sign to butcher in.

Now just look at that long row of "signs." There is one, that looks like a Christmas ginger-cake "Ghoul;" that must be the Lion, if that other one with a tail like a Lion and horns like rabbits ears is the Goat. But this does not make much difference; some of our folks would not hang up meat to smoke in either of these two "signs" for anything; because the meat would become alive with "skippers;" for certainly this "sign" is a representation of something which has life in it. The scales is the right "sign" to hang up pork in; it has no life in it, consequently can breed no life, anybody can see that. You must not understand that they want any more of this kind of signs, but they wonder why you have the "signs" of the Zodiac in the picture around the man with his bowels open: so much handsomer now when people do very seldom get bled anymore than those in the "row," since those in the "row" are all the ones that are much used now. There is the Bull—he looks like a pranking little whiffet. And you cannot tell which is the crab or the Scorpion; one looks like a corn Whisk, and the other like a dead chicken with all the feathers plucked off. The Ram looks, for all the world, like a sick kitten. Now this all is exceedingly objectionable in so important a matter. You can tell pretty well which is the Virgin, however, so the women can tell when not to plant Cucumber seed for fear the vines would all run to blossom. Here I see in January 1871, too, that you have placed the down-pointing moon one line too high up. You must correct that in the New Almanac, for '72, else some of the sisters might make a mistake and set their little onions out one day too soon, and have their crop very much injured, if not entirely ruined; for onions will always manage to come on top of the ground when they are set out when the moon points up. (Just now I see that I have made a little mistake; but everybody knows that I mean, if the moon should be placed in the wrong line in onion planting time). Who so stupid, my friends, but knows from actual observation, that fruit trees which blossom in the dark of the moon invariably fail to bear a fair or full crop of fruit during the same season? When so much knowledge depends upon having the moon correctly placed in the Almanac, I claim that it is very nearly a crime for the printer to be careless about these matters. I am an earnest man, and generally speak in an earnest manner; but that is my way, I cannot help it. It is far from my intention to wound the feelings of any one.—What farther shall we say? Time would fail me to speak of the tenth part of the instances on record, well established, too, of roofing shingles turning up with nails along; of others remaining down; of bodies thrown upon the grass settling down, and vice versa; of worm fences settling down, and post fences heaving up: of butchering in the wrong sign of the moon, so as to have your meat shrink back upon the bone in boiling it!

Now I must tell you how a fellow—who does not believe in the "signs of the Almanac" and "Pow wowing" for sicknesses, and such foolishness—as he calls it—came to grief one evening in a store.—"Well now," he says, "tell me, how is it when you bury a man when the moon points down? will he be going down all the time as long as the world stands?—And if you bury him when the moon points up, will he be coming up, if the world stands long enough, until he heaves out of the ground,—coffin and all?" This he said in a great, swaggering style. But he was told that a man who would talk that way about a fellow-man was fit to be classed with brutes. That man was too much excited, perhaps, to tell him or think that the influence of the moon only extended to the depth of the winter frost. And so it likely is as to land. Human bodies are mostly buried below the line of frost. We hear of bodies lying scattered over the great plains of the west, but those are probably the bodies of Indians, and emigrants, some of which were never buried at all, and others but slightly, whose appearance would be a matter of course, if buried when the moon points up. But show me a human or other body, as light as the soil in which it is buried, and has been so buried for thousands of years, above the line of frost, and I will undertake to show you the influence of the moon in keeping it there. This applies to ante-diluvian as well as post-diluvian. Does not Moses teach us that the lights were set in the heavens "for signs and for seasons, and for days and years." Gen. 1: 14.

It is said by many that pains, aches, eruptions, felons, carbuncles, cataracts, rose, erysipelas, neuralgia, tooth-ache; and so on, can never be cured by means of what they are pleased to call "pow-wow." It is only necessary to state that this is one of the "Gifts" spoken of by Paul, 1 Cor. xii. 9, which probably many pious Christians have been endowed with since the beginning of the Christian era. We have very many cases of this kind in our midst, everywhere in this country, some of which are probably as well authenticated as the "divers diseases" spoken of on the sacred page. And why not as well of "healing," as of tongues, of interpretation, of faith, &c.?

Now, in conclusion, we wish to say, if any one believes that he is able to show that the foregoing homely declarations, facts, or arguments, as you choose to call them, are illusive and unscriptural, it is certainly high time that it was done; because some of you have perhaps no adequate conception of how extensively they are held, and how firmly they are maintained. We want some person to tell us what these "signs" are made for and put into our Almanacs if they are not to be used as we do use them. Let your logic come plain and pointed, but respectful and civil; for no one is more desirous to "weed out" superstition than your unworthy fellow traveling pilgrim to a better world. The time has come when judgment must begin at the house of God, if these are not truthful views.

Yours for the truth,
ADAM BRAEFOGLE.

An Anecdote.

In the latter part of the summer of 1862—the time which tried men's faith—a certain very noisy individual from a neighboring county came to Indiana and stood in a public place and read from a paper which he held in his hand, what, he said, was the form of the "oath" non-resistants were required to take in order to secure exemption from the then pending "draft." After reading the same he named certain brethren in his county who, he said, had taken said "oath," and at the same time calling them rebels, cowards, &c., with numerous other appropriate epithets. At last a by-stander, inspired with sentiments similar to his own, asked, "On what principles do they claim such rights?" "Because they pretend to believe we should obey the injunction not to render evil for evil, and if smitten on one cheek to turn the other also." "Well," says the inquirer, "if I meet Mr. ——— I will hit him a big slap on the cheek, and see whether he will stick to the principle." A modest brother here interposed with, "What if he should turn the other?" Our chivalrous individual here thought best not to answer—suppose, he feared if he said "strike again" his character as a man would suffer a discount, and if the contrary, it would be admitting the advantage of non-resistance.

Annual Meeting for 1872.

On the premises of brother Cyrus Hoover, near Wooster Summit, Wayne county Ohio, commencing the first Tuesday after Pentecost, being the twenty-first day of May.

All the ordained elders of the church are requested to be present at the place of meeting, on Whit Monday, May 20.

District Meetings for 1872.

South-Western District of Ohio, in the Little Bear Creek congregation, at the meeting-house, six miles west of Dayton, on the National Turnpike, third Tuesday before Pentecost.

North-Eastern District of Ohio, Mohicon congregation, Wayne county, at the meeting-house, at brother Jacob Garver's.

Eastern District of Pennsylvania, in the Coventry branch, Chester county, on Thursday, one week before Ascension day. Pottstown, on the Philadelphia and Reading railroad, is the nearest station. John Harley, Pottstown, Pa., corresponding secretary.

Northern District of Indiana,—composed of 30 branches of Indiana, and 3 of Michigan,—Pine Creek congregation, East meeting-house, on Thursday, four weeks before the Annual Meeting.

Western District of Maryland: four congregations; Beaver Creek meeting-house, third Tuesday after Easter. Emanuel Slifer, Burkittsville, Md., clerk.

Kansas and Nebraska District, in the Eight Mile congregation, Franklin county, Kansas, first Monday in May.
